

The UMA is the main university in Málaga and offers medical training to future physicians at the university hospital Virgen de la Victoria. The Gastroenterology and the Clinical Pharmacology Services at this hospital are involved in clinical trials in the field of hepatology. The Clinical Pharmacology Services is also the coordinating center for the Spanish DILI Registry, a multidisciplinary network of hepatologists and clinical pharmacologists working towards a better understanding of drug-induced liver injuries.

<http://www.uma.es>