

The ULEI is a large academic medical centre in Leipzig. The Section of Hepatology is involved in the development and execution of a large number of clinical trials in the fields of liver disease, oncology, liver transplantation and intensive care. The ULEI has been involved in clinical and translational trials concerning liver and kidney injury.

<http://www.zv.uni-leipzig.de>